

PARAGON

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased by 1.5 million (1990–1998) (1999a).

There is a growing emphasis on the need to improve the efficiency of public services, and to ensure that the public sector is able to deliver the services that are required in a cost-effective manner. This has led to a number of initiatives, including the introduction of competition, the restructuring of public services, and the introduction of performance targets.

The aim of this paper is to review the evidence on the impact of these initiatives on the efficiency of public services. The paper is organized as follows. Section 2 discusses the evidence on the impact of competition. Section 3 discusses the evidence on the impact of restructuring. Section 4 discusses the evidence on the impact of performance targets. Section 5 discusses the implications of the evidence for policy.

2. Competition

The introduction of competition into public services has been a major feature of public sector reform in the UK. This has been done in a number of ways, including the privatization of public services, the introduction of competition for the provision of public services, and the introduction of competition for the funding of public services.

The evidence on the impact of competition on the efficiency of public services is mixed. On the one hand, there is evidence that competition has led to improvements in efficiency in some cases. On the other hand, there is evidence that competition has led to a reduction in efficiency in other cases.

The choice - BOREDOM or ECSTASY--

I for one--
Choose the latter.

Far Left—Mary Ellen Luerssen, Ward
Gott, Donna Lammering, John Gott.
Left—Dave Pelc, Tom Karas. Below—
Tom Trent, Betsy Brager, Cathy Hutchings, John Papais.

I may CONFORM; I may not.

Is that all I may do?

Far Left—John Wingfield. Above—Father and Son, Mr. John Kulka and Bob. Left—Rich Kennel and Karen Fischer.

Youth divert and differentiate themselves with books, movies, and music. The Godfather, Love Story, and Portnoy's Complaint provided diversity in literature. "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid" humored audiences of all ages. "Easy Rider" and "Midnight Cowboy" explored youth and their current problems realistically. Strains of Crosby, Stills, Nash, and Young; Blood, Sweat, and Tears; Chicago; Santana; Blind Faith's "Sea of Joy"; The Stones "Let It Bleed"; Iron Butterfly's "Ball"; The Beatles (again); and of course Simon and Garfunkel's "Bridge Over Troubled Water".

... Sail on silver girl,

Sail on by.

Your time has come to shine.

All your dreams are on their way.

See how they shine.

If you need a friend

I'm sailing right behind.

Like a bridge over troubled water

I will ease your mind.

Above—Ken Detzner, Gayle Rutz. Right—
Marc Robertson. Far Right—Jan Shorb,
Jill Lanman, Gary Shumway, and Ken Andersen.

I want

Whether ALONE or WITH YOU!

Man can be defeated but not destroyed. Ernest Hemingway

Dauntless shall my uncanny soul delve

Into CONQUEST, Into DEFEAT.

I, as MAN, have an eager urge

For progress-- Does my MAKER?

Left—Sue Ogren. Below—Dale Lammering. Far Left—
Man's creation is but the product of his profession.

ACTIVITIES

Summer

A coming, a going
A sharing of
The delirious-
A time in which
I have seasoned
The sweetness of a life
Unrestrained.

Far Left—Gayle Henson, Tom Crothouse . . . a time for sharing, for life. Left—Nanci Landon, Russ Pellar, and the barefoot descending on an immense white dune.

Cheri Brown—"Enter A Queen"

Lynn Moore—"When Men Are Scarce"

Jay Lynn—"Curse You Jack Dalton"

Mark Pope, Robin Allen—"Gloria Mundi"

Chris Covert—"Mooney's Kid Don't Cry"

"Mouse Trap"—adept and expert lighting amplifies the poignant portrayal

Summer Theatre

I am the actor,

The actress...

It is summer

And I have sought

But to perform-

To execute...the various

Expressions of life.

Black-clad figures upon stools, spot lights, strains of soft music, an experiment in Reader's Theatre lends to Rhonda Robertson's portrayal of the proud Amanda.

Fall

I must once again
Begin anew, for the Summer's sultries
Have faded and it
Is time to remount
Yet another horse
On life's
Ever-pulsating
Merry-go-round.

Below—The Junior float emerged victorious.

Homecoming

An idea is born-

A float is assembled,

And I eagerly

Celebrated

Its birth?

INSIGHT '69: October 6-10, Spirit Week . . . posters, cowboys, Indians, slacks, red and white . . . tug-o-war confusion . . . disheartening rain . . . a "Chickie" Dinner . . . a Commons filled with "Memories: Bits and Pieces."

Winter

And all

I see

Is white.

Far Left—J. Wennekes, G. Duffala—whited air and winter joys experienced through togetherness. Left—G. Ammon, B. Parker—and the sifting down on a shimmering slope.

Holidays '69

Your faith—you must
Have faith in everyone
Else's belief."

(WINCHELL)

Spring

I chase the sun,
I take its hand,
And in warmth, it
Speaks to me of love.

Far Left—J. Eidam, and K. Malo reflect under the images of a various sun. Left—The dark, stark sky transforms into a sunny sea so that all the kites of the world can sail its crashing waves, and then always entering from oblivion, a snarling wooden sea monster stifles to produce the unglorious end. D. Wernitz, and S. Mohler.

Above—Mr. Bergen (R. Gubitz), Mr. Atkins (T. Trent) playing checkers at the General Store of Buck Creek. Right—John (J. Papais), Barbara Allen (C. Covert) discuss the mountain rumor that suggests that John is really a witchboy. Far Right—Uncle Smellicue (C. Dunning) confessing petty theft at the church revival meeting with Preacher Hagglar (R. Lee) presiding. Below Right—The Casts and Crews of "Dark of the Moon." Far Right—Mr. Allen (W. Helminski), Mrs. Allen (D. Kluse) talk with Preacher Hagglar about the apparent and upcoming marriage of their daughter, Barbara.

ORGANIZATIONS

Why do I WORK

So eagerly? It's simple,

I like what I'm doing.

Right—P. Rinkovsky exhibiting the body painting which was Art Club's attracting booth for the annual Carnival. Above Right—J. Stine, putting up publicity for the PEPSI yearbook sales in the teachers' lounge. Far Right—B. Pansing previewing books which went on sale for the National Honor Society Book Sale. Below Right—J. Patterson, pep club treasurer, making signs to support our wrestling team.

Hardwork vs.
ENJOYMENT? For me
They are as one.

To open all eyes
To help our cause,
I make MONEY.

Above-G. Malovance and N. Wolf practicing the debate techniques which sent them for the second consecutive year to the National Finals in Kansas. Above Right-D. Lanting looking over the literary magazines she acquired from the National Scholastic Press Association Convention for the 1970 Pegasus. Right-J. Washburn comprising a 16-page signature for the Paragon. Right-M. Pope reviewing the proper procedure for conducting a student senate meeting which he acquired at the I. U. summer program.

One day, so as not
To be completely bored,
I began TO LEARN.

PUBLICATIONS

Paragon, Crier, News Bureau, Pegasus

INSIGHT '69-'70: Paragon: First Place in Homecoming car competition; trip to the National Scholastic Press Assn. Conv. in Chicago over Thanksgiving; annual Christmas gift-exchange and the sophomore skit; record sale of yearbooks during the FEPSI campaign; "Pary's Posies" for the carnival booth netted over $95; the SOS picture sale brought in $75; the third annual Publications Banquet found twelve staff members being honored as "Most Outstanding"; monthly workshops continued; the addition of the sophomore and junior sixteen-paged signatures; a trip to the publishing company in Alabama for the co-editors; a trip to S.K. Smith in Chicago for editors; the highest honor achieved in December: Paragon's first "All-American." Crier: an entirely new paper; a style perfected with additional news columns of Side-Lines, Speak-Out, and Work in Focus; a special pollution issue gained professionalism; a $300 debt in September was overcome by money-making activities: taffy apples, candy canes, candy hearts, bake sales, car wash; an old-fashioned ice-cream parlor was the Carnival booth; a year with a staff proud of its professional-looking paper. News Bureau: a good staff with enthusiasm from the members and adviser; more coverage for MHS with the addition of four columns; planning of two TV programs; the continuance of the MHS Happenings in the Commons; a "Love Bead" booth at the Carnival; a year of re-building and an organized staff. Pegasus: a changed magazine format with a quote theme unifying the production; a more professional-looking magazine with the type set; first carnival booth; success.

Football

I am now the
 Epitome of violence,
 Pain, sweat, dirt,
 Rage; I have become
 The victor- I have Experienced the ultimate-
 And I am still
 But hero, but failure,
 But man.

INSIGHT '69: Coach Friend, true esteem bestowed by all—a "Bridge" kept, a rating of sixth in state by the AP—until—a lost "world war" at Valpo by one point, a termination of the season, an eleventh place state ranking, the admiration of this football team, our best ever, was truly bequeathed in its entirety.

Left—D. Pelc speedily accelerates dauntless of the heavy traffic. Below—T. Karas champions pile resulting in yet another touch down adding to his fame.

Right—These, these are the symbols of Seniors. Below—J. Krol, M. Kivett, D. Pearson, and B. Nelson show football season spirit at the Valpo game. Far Right—As time goes on I realize that you, the spirit of 1970, have covered my world, and though these last days have been encompassed by a wishing to be free, my ties with you shall never truly be erased. Below Right—The senior slump brought on Senior Rabbit's "Senior Countdown."

Seniors

And somehow, Class of '70,
I think you'll
Never be forgotten.

INSIGHT '89:100: Class colors: light blue and navy blue. Senior Banquet, May 28th at the Log . . . Baccalaureate, June 7th, 2:30 in the Auditorium . . . ... the threatening unending habit.

Vietnam Moratorium, October 15, 1969

The year of transition and a variety of lengths

A popular teen-age venture towards harm

Teachers' strikes delayed and upset the educational system.

The Israeli conflict flared.

The Chicago Seven Trial agitated controversy and the verdict shocked many.

Sen. Edward Kennedy was involved with the death of Mary Jo Kopechne.

The first postal strike delayed deliveries in major U.S. cities.

The near-tragedy of the Apollo 13 crew drew world concern.

President Nixon announced increased withdrawal of troops from Vietnam.

Concern

Hope...

July 20, 1969

Man steps on the moon and unites the world for one fleeting moment and a new hope springs into our souls.

"I'm going to step off the LEM now.
That's one small step for a man,
one giant leap for mankind."

Neil A. Armstrong

Idealism

Far Left Above—Why must I always view things through a screen of dis familiarity? Well, no matter—I have this budding tendency to make things be as I wish them to be anyway. Far Left—This, the ideal of peace, this, the symbol of unity, this, the battered cry in a disillusioned time. Above—When a little girl stands by to help me—I can only feel, contrary to popular belief, that love is all around. Left—I must stop the war, yet do I understand why?

A THANK YOU TO . . .

Our Photography Staff: Richard Atkins, Jim Young, Tom Schwoegler. Our Interns: Sue Amos, Alice Beckman, Debbie Bobin, Debbie Bolis, Joni Gainer, Alexis Huttel, Suzanne Parks, Richard Pellar, JoAnn Trimbur, Joyce Barker. The Internship Program—an innovation lacks unity. Our Promotion Staff: Karen Allen, Sheri Barth, Mary Ann Bauschelt, Diana Bembenista, Kathy Bogusz, Mary Bosch, Carole Ciohoski, Leslie Feingold, Marian Fetzke, Karen Geiger, Kim Graham, Linda Gregg, Rick Gubitz, Cathy Hanus, Mary Ann Jugovic, Dale Lammerting, Margaret Markovich, Marian Meisterling, Barbara Page, Kathy Pope, Pat Proll, Beth Raymond, Janet Satek, Janice Satek, Chris Sobek, Angela Speranza, Jean Stine, Toni Thomas, Jane Washburn—PEPSI, SANTA, SOS.

Our Athletic Board: John Coulis, Gary Duffala, Jim Eidam, Rudy Higgins, Larry Johnson, Bill Pansing, Rusty Rasch, Mark Sutkowski. The MHS faculty for being so cooperative and understanding through picture scheduling and information hunting.

The hosts of deadlines: Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Bruschi, Mr. and Mrs. Peglow, Mr. and Mrs. Nickoloff, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson. The hosts of promotion projects: Mr. and Mrs. Satek, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. Stine, Mr. and Mrs. Jugovic, Mr. Markavich, Marjorie Trent for the shadow boxes in the Organizations section. Joe Brown for the vibrant red on the endsheets and dividers.

Susan Chalfant for our wonderful tour in Alabama and for answering all our letters and helping us solve our problems.

Jack Bundy for servicing our cover and complying with our whims and our tour of the S. K. Smith Cover Company.

Al Schlegelmich, our Paragon representative.

Walingers Studios scheduling department for their time and patience. Tom Coughlin for everything from pictures to bits of reassurance.

Our favorite and most interested professional photographers: Bill Ret-skin for his help at NSPA and his wild ideas; Dick Dickus for donating a camera to our cause, Bill LeClair for the outstanding color pictures and his creativity; and, Art Kreiger for the tremendous organization and baseball pictures—Each one is specially talented.

Dee at Johann's for all our trophy needs.

Smokey at Fehring's for all our printing needs.

Joe Sfura and Jim Bruno whose cooperation and interest and particularly all those loads of materials made our PEPSI campaign a success.

The Munster Booster Club for the new camera, particularly Mr. Durk-ovich and Mr. Shinkan—They are all indispensable.

Miss Gonce for her work on the shadow boxes and use of the darkroom. Mr. Lindquist and Miss Christoff for the use of their lenses.

Mrs. Silverman for keeping our finances in the office, and Mrs. Horlick for all the duplicating assistance.

Mr. Kurfelt and Mr. Bowden for their cooperation and tolerance of the Paragon whims and picture scheduling needs which allowed us to produce the kind of hook which we want to give Munster High School. Especially, all those crazy people sitting on the monkey bars on page 235 for the success of the 1970 Paragon.

PARAGON SPECIFICATIONS

The 1970 Paragon was printed by Paragon Press, Montgomery, Alabama. The original 10 column layout was developed by our staff for our own purposes and convenience. Paragon has two pica inner margins with outer margins of three picas, four picas, four picas, and six picas. The layout style for the Paragon focuses on a dominant picture per two page spread with an effective use of white space. The Paragon was printed on eighty pound paper in a Patina stock. The score blocks are in one hundred percent black reverse.

The Academics section has been reorganized into spreads depicting methods of learning. The organizations section has been divided into an essay of candid and of informal group pictures. The use of collages was initiated to enable the use of more pictures yet to retain layout style. Collages are outlined with a two point black line.

A major portion of our photography was done by Walingers Studio of Chicago, Illinois. The pictures were made from 8x8 black and white glossies. The special effects in photography were achieved through the use of a fish eye lens, wide-angle and super-wide-angle lenses. The 10 4-color pictures in the opening are a part of a Rainbow-color plan offered exclusively by Paragon Press. The red dye appearing on the endsheets and dividers was especially blended for use in the 1970 Paragon. Special graphic etching appears on the dividers.

The purpose of the copy style is to introduce the spread by the label head (36 pt. Bodoni Bold), create the mood of the year in the few lines of copy block (18 pt. and 24 pt. Bodoni Bold), offer the historical facts and statistics in the Insight Blocks, briefly identify the pictures in the captions (8 pt. Caledonia), and make reference easier by page labels (8 pt. Caledonia).

The cover was designed by the S. K. Smith of Chicago, Illinois. The cover is black leatherette with a white photographic silk screen complemented by red print which matches the endsheets and dividers.

The fold-out appearing in the epilogue is for an exciting effective way to picture our Senior class. The picture is a four-color reproduction by Paragon Press. The fold-out is a four page addition which has been tipped into the natural spread.

The 1970 Paragon is the product of nineteen enthusiastic Munster High students. The sincere interest in making this book one which the students can enjoy for many years caused all nineteen of them to give of themselves one hundred percent, a goal which is hard to achieve. The student body, oblivious to the time, efforts, and energy consumed in producing the book, should be aware of interest, concern and the sense of accomplishment which is gained when we hear, "That's really a good idea. Is that a cool picture!" or "This is even better than last year's." The credit for building the yearbook journalism program rightly goes to Mrs. Betsey Wilson. She has provided us with a learning experience, enabling us to see responsibility, dedication, and fulfillment of a goal by her personal example.

To produce this yearbook, we made several decisions as to our basic plan and what we wanted to portray as the Munster High School image and its students. We realized that we would face some opposition to our new and borrowed ideas and had no way of knowing how the ideas would be accepted or how well we would like them once published in the book. Our plan was to give the yearbook a refreshing, different, and exciting look but always in good taste and a fundamentally correct journalistic style. Students, such as we have at MHS, deserve to be given a book which is fun to look at and still retains the year's data and personalities efficiently and accurately.

To us, life at Munster High revolves around young people and adults with young minds and new ideas. Not only does our book strongly portray youth having fun, in nature and together, but also youth contributing of themselves and their talents and achieving the utmost of goals. The rapidly changing and paradoxical emotions concentrated upon in the opening and closing sections show our interpretation of the youth of 1970, and particularly Munster High.

the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Foundation 1999).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of people with mental health problems in the community. The Department of Health (1999) has set out a vision for the future of mental health services, which includes a focus on preventing mental health problems and promoting recovery.

The aim of this paper is to explore the experiences of people with mental health problems who are involved in community mental health teams (CMHTs) in the UK.

The paper is structured as follows. First, a brief overview of the current state of mental health services in the UK is provided. This is followed by a description of the research project and the participants. The main body of the paper then presents the findings of the research, which are discussed in the context of the current literature.

The paper concludes with a discussion of the implications of the findings for practice and policy. It is hoped that this paper will contribute to the understanding of the experiences of people with mental health problems who are involved in CMHTs and will help to inform the development of better services for them.

Background

The number of people with a mental health problem in the UK has increased significantly in recent years. In 1999, there were over 5 million people with a mental health problem in the UK, up from 3.5 million in 1989 (Mental Health Foundation 1999).

The increase in the number of people with a mental health problem has led to a corresponding increase in the demand for mental health services. In 1999, there were over 100,000 people in contact with mental health services in the UK, up from 70,000 in 1989 (Mental Health Foundation 1999).

The current state of mental health services in the UK is characterized by a mix of community and hospital-based services. Community mental health teams (CMHTs) are the main providers of mental health services in the community.

CMHTs provide a range of services, including assessment, diagnosis, treatment, and rehabilitation. They also provide support and advice to people with mental health problems and their families.

The aim of this paper is to explore the experiences of people with mental health problems who are involved in CMHTs in the UK. The paper is structured as follows. First, a brief overview of the current state of mental health services in the UK is provided.

This is followed by a description of the research project and the participants. The main body of the paper then presents the findings of the research, which are discussed in the context of the current literature.

The paper concludes with a discussion of the implications of the findings for practice and policy. It is hoped that this paper will contribute to the understanding of the experiences of people with mental health problems who are involved in CMHTs and will help to inform the development of better services for them.

Methodology

The research was conducted using a qualitative approach. The participants were people with mental health problems who were involved in CMHTs in the UK.

The data were collected through semi-structured interviews. The interviews were conducted with the participants in their own homes. The interviews lasted between 30 and 60 minutes.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased by 1.5 million (1990–1999) (1999a).

There is a growing emphasis on the need to improve the efficiency of public services, and to ensure that the public sector is able to deliver the services that are required in a cost-effective manner. This has led to a number of initiatives, including the introduction of competition, the restructuring of public services, and the introduction of performance targets.

The aim of this paper is to review the literature on the impact of these initiatives on the efficiency of public services, and to discuss the implications for the future of the public sector.

2. Background

The public sector in the UK has been the subject of a number of initiatives in recent years, including the introduction of competition, the restructuring of public services, and the introduction of performance targets.

The aim of this paper is to review the literature on the impact of these initiatives on the efficiency of public services, and to discuss the implications for the future of the public sector.

3. Competition

The introduction of competition into the public sector has been a major initiative in recent years. This has led to a number of changes in the way that public services are delivered, and has resulted in a number of improvements in efficiency.

The aim of this paper is to review the literature on the impact of these initiatives on the efficiency of public services, and to discuss the implications for the future of the public sector.

4. Restructuring

The restructuring of public services has been a major initiative in recent years. This has led to a number of changes in the way that public services are delivered, and has resulted in a number of improvements in efficiency.

The aim of this paper is to review the literature on the impact of these initiatives on the efficiency of public services, and to discuss the implications for the future of the public sector.

5. Performance targets

The introduction of performance targets into the public sector has been a major initiative in recent years. This has led to a number of changes in the way that public services are delivered, and has resulted in a number of improvements in efficiency.

The aim of this paper is to review the literature on the impact of these initiatives on the efficiency of public services, and to discuss the implications for the future of the public sector.

6. Conclusion

The public sector in the UK has been the subject of a number of initiatives in recent years, including the introduction of competition, the restructuring of public services, and the introduction of performance targets. The aim of this paper is to review the literature on the impact of these initiatives on the efficiency of public services, and to discuss the implications for the future of the public sector.
